Supposed Suicide.

The other day a compositor in this office got hold of a part of a page of the chirography of M. D. Bloss, editor of the verected expressly for the purpose.—Exch. the Cincinnati Enquirer. It isn't writing at all, but Bloss seems to kick the ink bottle at a sheet of paper and then sends the paper down to the compositors as editorial. This part of a page was used as the foundation of a plot to deliberately destroy a human life. A line or erately destroy a human life. A line or the twenty-five largest cities in the two was written above it, Bloss' page marked "solid," and it was handed out to a "jour," who had just struck the office. He claimed to be "lightning" on the "set" and on reading manuscript, and he set up the introductory line like a whirlwind. When he came down to Bloss he grabbed for a cap "A," held it a second and then dove into the "Y" box. He then threw that back and picked out a dollar mark. No sentence can commence with a dollar mark, and the typo paused, spit on his hands and rested one foot on the cross-bar of his rack. After a moment he grabbed a "ffi," but slowly replaced it and toyed STEALING HEAVEN'S LIVERY.—The with an italic "Z." FOR FAMILY USE,

NEW No. 6 SEWING MACHINE

For Leather Work and Heavy Talloring.

Wheeler & Wilson's Family Sewing Machine was the first introduced into the household for general use, and for more than twenty years has stood unrivaled. More than 1,000,000 have been sold, a number far exceeding the total sales of any other machine of its class.

Wheeler & Wilson's New No. 6 Sawing Machine is designed to do in a superior manner a wider range of work than any sewing machine heretofore produced. It is especially adapted to the stitching of oots and shoes, harness, carriage trimmings, gloves, eather work generally, bags, hosiery, clothing, and heavy fabrics of every description. It is intended to be operated either by foot, or at a higher rate of speed than other machines by steam or other power, and is rapidly gaining that pre-eminence for manufacturing purposes which their family machine has long maintained in the household.
